

Please join us on Sunday March 2, 2014 (2:00-4:30pm)
for a free public program/reception in the Lafayette Library Community Hall:

“In Memory of...”

Binh Danh will speak about his work: art and science, life and death, past and present, history and immortality. His presentation will include original Daguerreotypes from the Lafayette Library’s exhibition (March 21) The Crosses: A Protest Against Forgetting.

Danh will later share the stage with Jeff Heaton (The Crosses of Lafayette), and Fred Norman (Veteran, peace activist) will read from “A Hill of Poems” (his annual readings at the Crosses of Lafayette).

The Crosses: A Protest Against Forgetting exhibition consists of digital prints of Daguerreotype images by Binh Danh. Over several years, Danh documented The Crosses of Lafayette. These images preserve moments in the history of the memorial and our collective memory of war.

Danh received his MFA from Stanford University in 2004 and has emerged as an artist of national importance. His work is included in museum exhibitions and collections across the country. Danh is currently on the faculty of Arizona State University, and is represented by the Haines Gallery in San Francisco.

Sunday	March 2, 2014	Lafayette Library and Learning Center
Gallery	2:00pm-4:30pm	Gallery and Community Hall
Artist Talk	2:30pm-3:30pm	3491 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette

Questions?

Carol Reif, Curator/Exhibition Design/Public Program
crossesexhibit@gmail.com 925-286-0964