

Contra Costa Transportation Authority Countywide Transportation Plan (CTP) Outreach

“Share your bright idea to help keep Contra Costa moving”

What’s your transportation vision for Contra Costa? What programs should we invest in? Should we extend BART, put more buses on the road, fix local streets, create more bike lanes, make our streets more pedestrian friendly, or improve our highways?

All these questions and more are part of an outreach effort by the Contra Costa Transportation Authority (CCTA) and we’d like to hear your ideas to keep Contra Costa moving. CCTA is responsible for maintaining and improving Contra Costa’s transportation system by planning and funding key projects, like the Caldecott Tunnel Fourth Bore, Highway 4 widening, and BART system extensions. The agency also helps maintain local streets, reduce traffic congestion, and make Contra Costa safe for bicyclists and pedestrians. Our work helps you get where you need to go!

The Contra Costa Transportation Authority is updating our Countywide Transportation Plan (CTP) in collaboration with Contra Costa municipalities, local agencies, and input from the public. The CTP is a plan for the next 25 years of transportation investment in Contra Costa that outlines a vision, and establishes goals, strategies, and other actions to help make projects and programs a reality.

Our agency wants to know what transportation issues you think are important so we can prioritize where to spend valuable time and resources – BART? Buses? Highways? Local roads? Pedestrian paths? Bicycle routes? Do you have new ideas? You tell us. This is your chance to participate in setting the priorities for our transportation system and suggest your own bright ideas for new projects and programs in Contra Costa.

There are many ways you can participate:

1. Attend a public workshop to hear more about the CTP process and give your feedback. Here’s a list of the upcoming workshops:
 - Central County Public Workshop: Wednesday, August 27, 2014, 7pm, Assembly Hall at Civic Park Community Center, 1375 Civic Drive, Walnut Creek
 - East County Public Workshop: Thursday, August 28, 2014, 7pm, City Council Chambers, Pittsburg Civic Center, 65 Civic Avenue, Pittsburg
 - Southwest County Public Workshop: Wednesday, September 10, 2014, 7pm, Veteran’s Memorial Building, 3780 Mt. Diablo Blvd, Lafayette
 - West County Public Workshop: Saturday, September 20, 2014, 1:30pm, Richmond Convention Center, Bermuda Room (enter from Nevin St.) 403 Civic Center Plaza, Richmond
 - West County Public Workshop: Monday, September 22, 2014, 7pm, Hercules Community Center (Gym), 2001 Refugio Valley Road, Hercules

- Telephone Public Workshop: Tuesday, September 23, 2014, 6pm, Dial 877-229-8493 and pin# 1126642 when prompted.
2. Participate in CCTA's online survey at www.KeepContraCostaMoving.net, to tell us your priorities, share your bright ideas, and see what other ideas have been submitted. (For a printable version of the survey, click here, or call 925-256-4720 or email 2014CTP@ccta.net to have a copy of CCTA's survey mailed to you.)

We encourage you to use one of the ways listed above to participate in this important planning effort. Your opinions and ideas will help shape Contra Costa County's transportation planning for the next 25 years. Don't miss this opportunity!
