

Wei-Tai Kwok

My wife Violet and I moved to Lafayette 20 years ago to raise our two children from kindergarten through high school. We've been active in local non-profit and neighborhood organizations ever since.

Professionally, I have worked in solar and renewable energy since 2009 in roles ranging from head of global marketing at the world's #1 solar company ($3 billion revenue) to Chief Operating Officer at an early-stage venture with 70 staff. For 17 years prior, I was co-founder and CEO of my own business with 35 employees in SF. I graduated from Yale University with a BA in Economics & Political Science.

I am running for City Council to achieve our vision of a welcoming, inclusive, safe, family-friendly city for residents and visitors alike. Prior to my City Council appointment in 2021, I served on the Environmental Task Force and the Community Diversity, Equity, Inclusion & Belonging Committee.

My key priorities: wildfire preparedness, transportation safety, congestion reduction, environmental sustainability, fiscal prudence, and smart housing development.

I'm excited about Lafayette's future and would be grateful for your vote. Learn more about me at weitaikwok.com
