Utility Box Art

ABOUT THE PROJECT

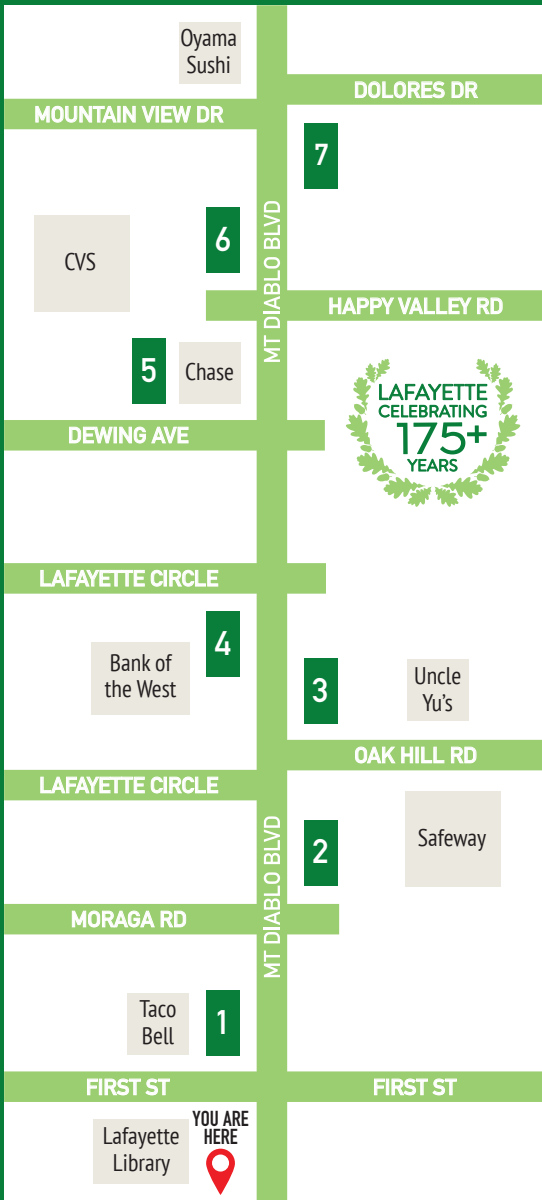

The City of Lafayette will be exploring 175+ years of Lafayette history this year. The Lafayette Historical Society worked together with a graphic designer and the Public Art Committee to create a series of photo-realistic history wraps to transform seven utility boxes downtown into collages that increase awareness of our history and contribute to the cultural identity of our city. Each design includes a QR code that can be scanned to access educational information presented by the Lafayette Historical Society on the historical relevance of the archival images.
