

Call for Poets!

Are you a passionate poet looking for an opportunity to share your original works? Join us for a series of noontime salon-style poetry readings, where local poets will showcase their talent alongside actors reciting beloved verses. Local poets, it's your time to shine!

Mark your calendars for the first Spring-themed event on April 30 at Town Hall Theatre—it's free and open to all! Selected poets will perform in our cozy literary salon and café setting at Town Hall Theatre. Don't miss this chance to connect with fellow literary enthusiasts and share your poetic vision with our community.

Apply now and be part of Poetry for the Ages on April 30!
